The summer days carry us to the beginning of another year at Skyline High School.

For many of us this is our Senior year, which means our last.

The air is ecstatic with the excitement of students returning;
greeting old friends and realizing new ones.

THE FLIGHT BEGINS . . .

We soar to the heights of new realizations—

—Such realizations as can only be found by soaring on the wings of excellence.

We strain with eagle eye to see as much, do as much, be as much as time allows,

but the years fly by like grains of sand slipping through our fingers.

Our days are filled with what to do,
where to go,
where to belong.

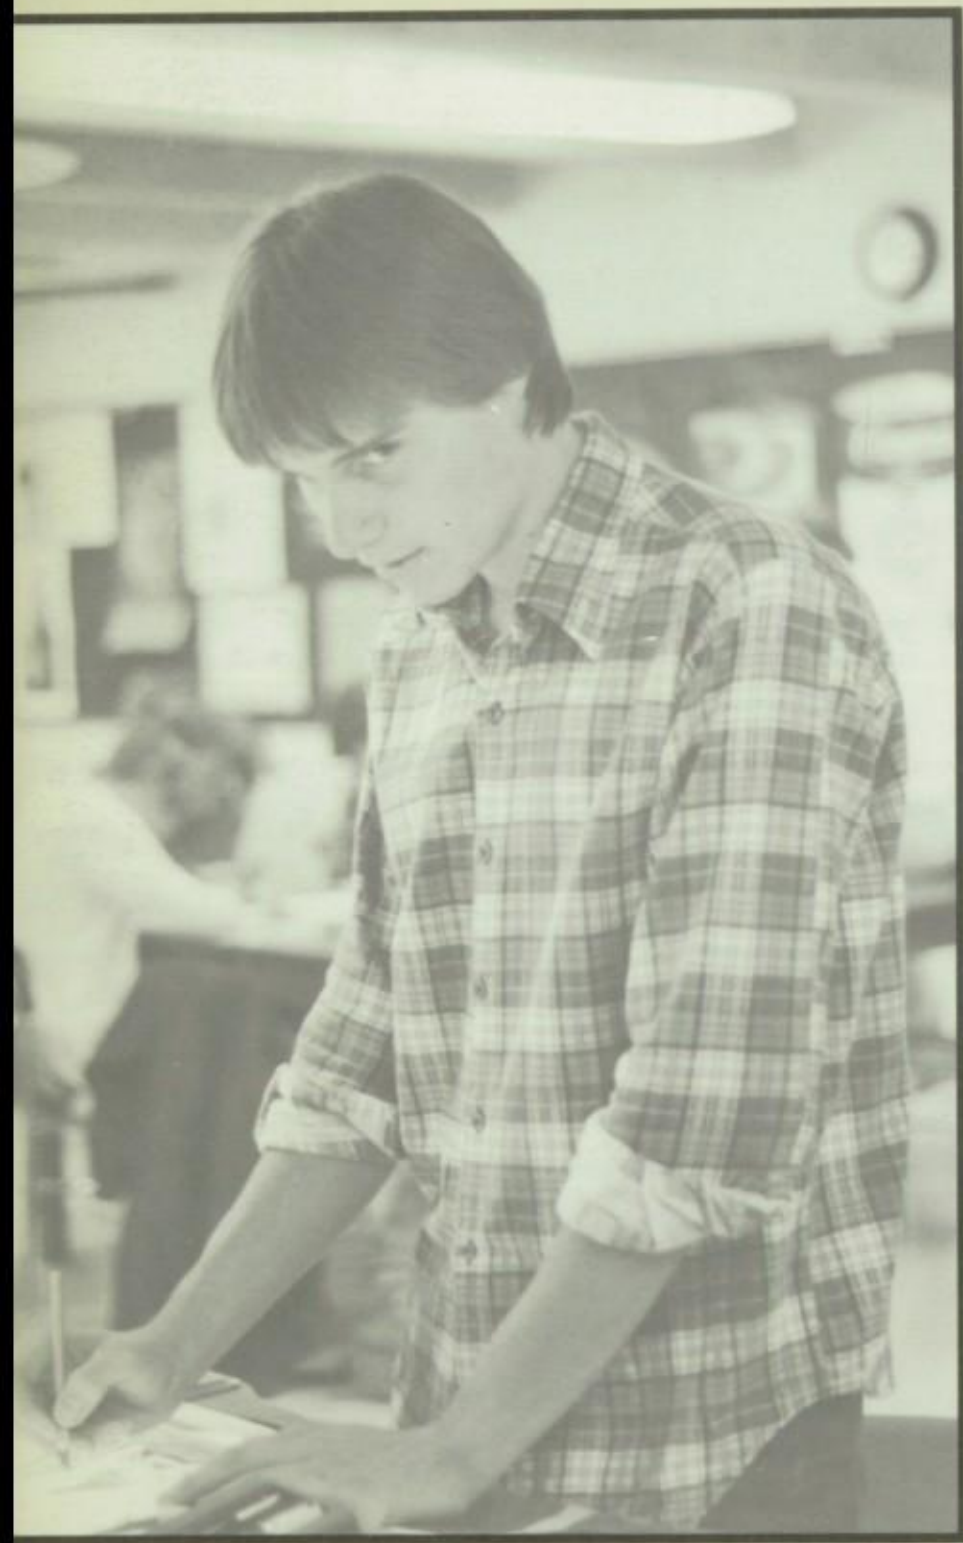

It's a fast moving time, but school spirit absorbs us; we become one with Skyline life.

As school pride increases, our energy builds.
This energy then leveled out to form pattern of our flight.

For each of us
there is an eagle that carries us to the greatest heights—soaring up to reach a star or a dream.

STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

"There are also many advantages to it. You meet lots of new people; you learn to help the other officers and you have a better outlook on life," commented S.A.B. President, Brad Poelman, on his term as a student body officer.

The Skyline student body officers worked hard in an effort to promote "Eagle Pride," support clubs, and get involved in all school activities. Throughout the year, the officers were kept busy in planning Homecoming, formal dances, assemblies and stumps. The Hello Day assembly was the most trying experience for all of them. With the approval of Mr. Miller, they were able to institute a car decorating contest, Christmas activities and creative morning announcements.

President Todd Engen remarked, "These officers were fantastic; they worked hard and were willing to cooperate." Through the efforts of the student body officers, the Skyline Eagles were able to "Soar On Wings Of Excellence."

CHEERLEADERS

From cheering at football and basketball games to planning pep assemblies, Skyline's 1982-1983 cheerleaders had an exciting year. Their main duty was to promote school spirit and involvement by cheering at all football and basketball games; and by attending many other sporting events. Their other duties were planning lunchroom activities, planning and performing at assemblies, including the Hello Day and the Homecoming assemblies.

In preparation for their duties, the cheerleaders were taught the "basics" by cheerleaders of past years. They also attended the Intermountain Spirit Camp during July. At camp they learned not only new cheers, but also how to reach themselves cheers.

The biggest event for them was Homecoming for which they planned lunchroom activities and decorated the football field.

They enjoyed many aspects of being cheerleaders, including doughnut runs during first period. But they all agreed that one of the most difficult tasks was trying to evoke school spirit in the students. Citing that each group of cheerleaders is different, their advisor, Mrs. Conant, remarked that this group was very easy to work with and that they responded well to suggestions.

WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

The Women's Association, led by President, Michelle Morris, enthusiastically performed the tasks of organizing the W. A. Dance on November 12, as well as arranging activities for Women's week.

The W. A. officers worked hard on the activities so as to guarantee a large amount of school spirit, especially during Women's week. "I enjoyed working with the other officers, and my officers did a super job," added Michelle.

MEN'S ASSOCIATION

With Todd Ajax as their president, the Men's Association officers were only bound to succeed in their duties. These duties included planning and supporting all Men's week activities such as the beard growing contest and the M. A. sponsored "awesome Hawaiian stomp."

Working toward a successful Men's week, Todd's main goal was to promote enthusiasm and pride. "With the fantastic officers this year's Men's Association couldn't go wrong," added Todd.

SENATE

"The Senate has been excellent!" commented Drew Furlong, Student-body Vice President and President of the Senate. In September, when the Senate was first elected, Drew felt that they would do a good job, and the level of success they achieved throughout the year proved him correct. The Senate was composed of four seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores, all under the direction of Drew Furlong.

One very popular amendment instituted by the Senate allowed mini skirts and shorts that are no more than three inches above the knee.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD

Officers: Anupama Kushawaha, Secretary, Brad Poelman, President, Brenda Farley, Vice-President.

The Student Activities Board, under the leadership of president, Brad Poelman, was responsible for the class and school elections as well as rallying votes and assuring that the winners were kept a secret. In addition, they planned extra-curricular activities including the Luscious Legs Contest held in November. Brad was confident of the S.A.B.'s success because of their hard work and determination. "We have really qualified people and plan quite a few activities," commented President Brad.

PRINCIPAL

Working with people is why principal, Mr. Keith Bergstrom, enjoys his job as a Skyline administrator. Unfortunately, he found that not being able to be a part of everything that went on at Skyline was very frustrating.

One of Mr. Bergstrom's main goals this year was to initiate more community involvement through parent-teacher-student committees. He was also involved with making sure that each senior had passed the competency test required by new state law.

Mr. Bergstrom felt that one of Skyline's strongest points was the achievement in academics, the fine arts and the athletics. However, he agreed with most students that 7:40 is too early to start school.

The paperwork involved with his job kept Mr. Bergstrom quite busy.

Mr. Bergstrom works very closely with his two vice-principals.

Skyline's Vice Principal, Mr. John J. Worley.

VICE PRINCIPAL

Before becoming vice principal in 1980, Mr. John Worley was the principal at Wasatch Jr. High for four years. "Working with people is what I enjoy most; I'm a people person," he says. "I love meeting new people." In addition to ticketing cars parked in improper places and handing out school parking stickers, Mr. Worley is in charge of the Student Activities. When he was asked which of the activities he enjoyed the most, he replied, "I get so darn nervous and tense about the assemblies, games and dances turning out all right that I can hardly enjoy them. But I look forward to our winning state in football, basketball, etc. and to the stimulated students succeeding."

Mr. Worley — jolly as usual.

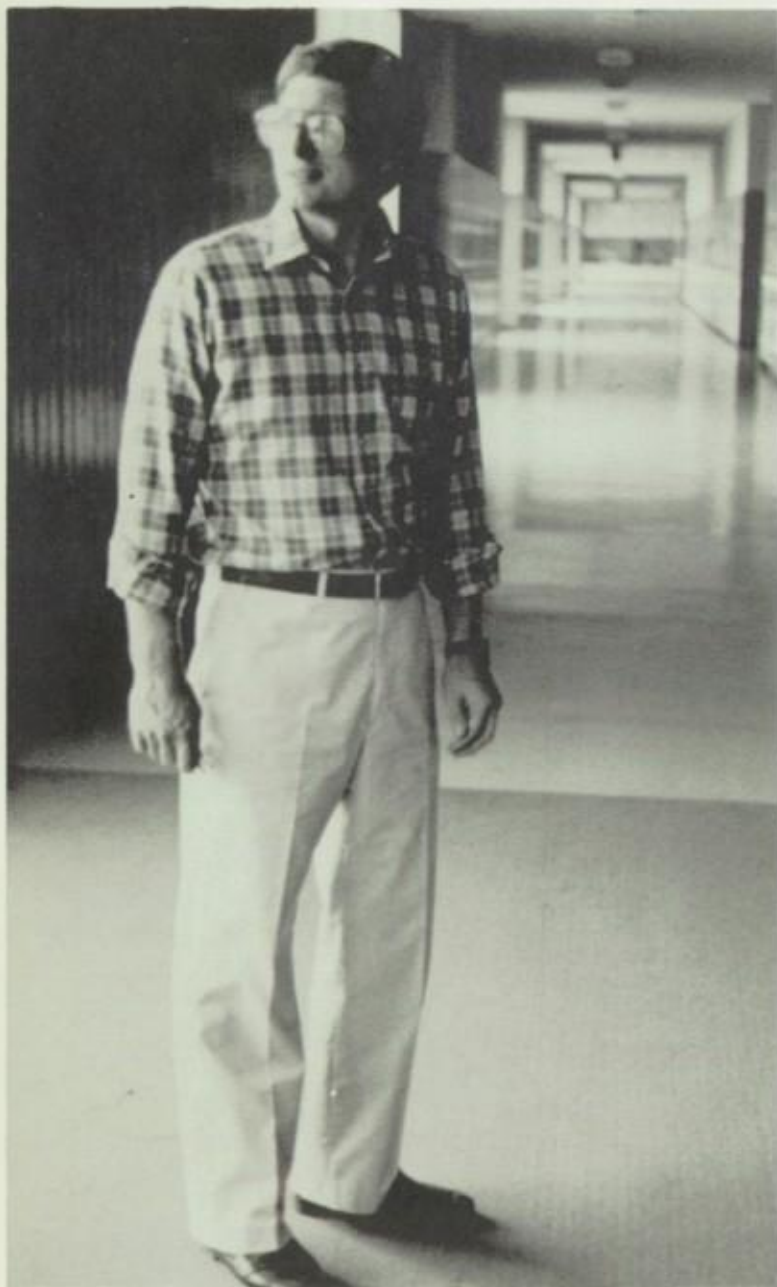

Mr. Worley prepares to make an announcement to the school.

VICE PRINCIPAL

Vice-principal Dr. Stanfield enjoys being an administrator because his job provides an opportunity to work with students. He enjoys high school students and said that he is the happiest when he is able to watch them succeed.

One of Dr. Stanfield's duties was coordinating athletic events, for which he hoped to increase student attendance. Another of his duties was chairing the Attendance Review Committee. As chairman of the committee, he talked to the students with unusually high absenteeism about improving their attendance. He felt that the committee helped the students assume responsibility for their actions. One of the major goals he worked to accomplish was the promotion of "Eagle Pride" among the student body.

SECRETARIES

Dora Beary

Joel Burns

Ruth Dangerfield

"I love it here because everyday is a new experience," commented Mrs. Gehring, secretary to Mr. Bergstrom, adding "I like to work for such a wonderful person as Mr. Bergstrom."

Skyline's secretaries were an important factor in the day-to-day operation of the school. Each secretary had her own specific set of duties keeping her busy. But they all agreed that they enjoyed their jobs at Skyline because they were given the opportunity to work with the student body. "They make everything I do worthwhile," commented Mrs. Dora Beary, the attendance secretary.

Dr. John Reed Call, Superintendent

COUNSELORS

Skyline's counselors were responsible for all the educational and personal counseling of the students. They were also responsible for coordinating admission and scholarship information for seniors, coordinating student goals with the student and his parents and assisting in the administration of such tests as the ACT, PSAT, SAT, and GATB. But their most important duty was to act as a buffer between the students and the administration and faculty.

CAREER CENTER

Skyline's Career Center helped students identify the high school subjects they needed and helped them work towards their career goals. Among the resources available to the students were aptitude tests, interest inventories, college catalogs, brochures, the Dictionary of Occupational Titles, and the Occupational Outlook Handbook, all to help the students learn more about their natural aptitudes, interests, personality and values.

FACULTY

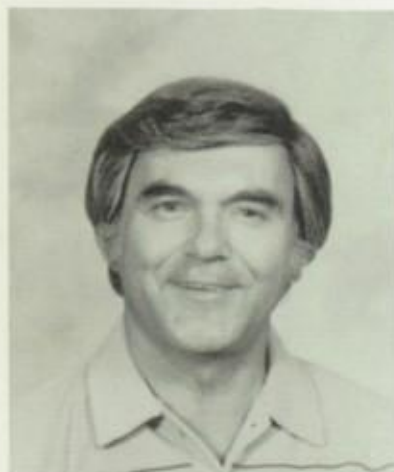

Skyline's faculty was a vital part in the operation of the school. They were responsible for the education of the students as well as guiding the students through their high school career. Among the subjects taught by the faculty were Business, English, Foreign Language, History, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, Physical Education, Science and the Arts.

PTSA

"This is no longer a punch and cookies organization. It has completely changed into a very meaningful committee that is extremely involved in the school and community," said Mr. Bergstrom, principal at Skyline and second vice president on the PTSA board.

The PTSA had six officers including president, first and second vice presidents, historian and secretary.

The PTSA has done a lot for Skyline this year. Among other things they sold sweat shirts and turtle neck sweaters to earn money for scholarships, sponsored the first stomp of the year, held a cultural arts show and sponsored the eye screening for all of the students.

REQUESTS AND REPLIES

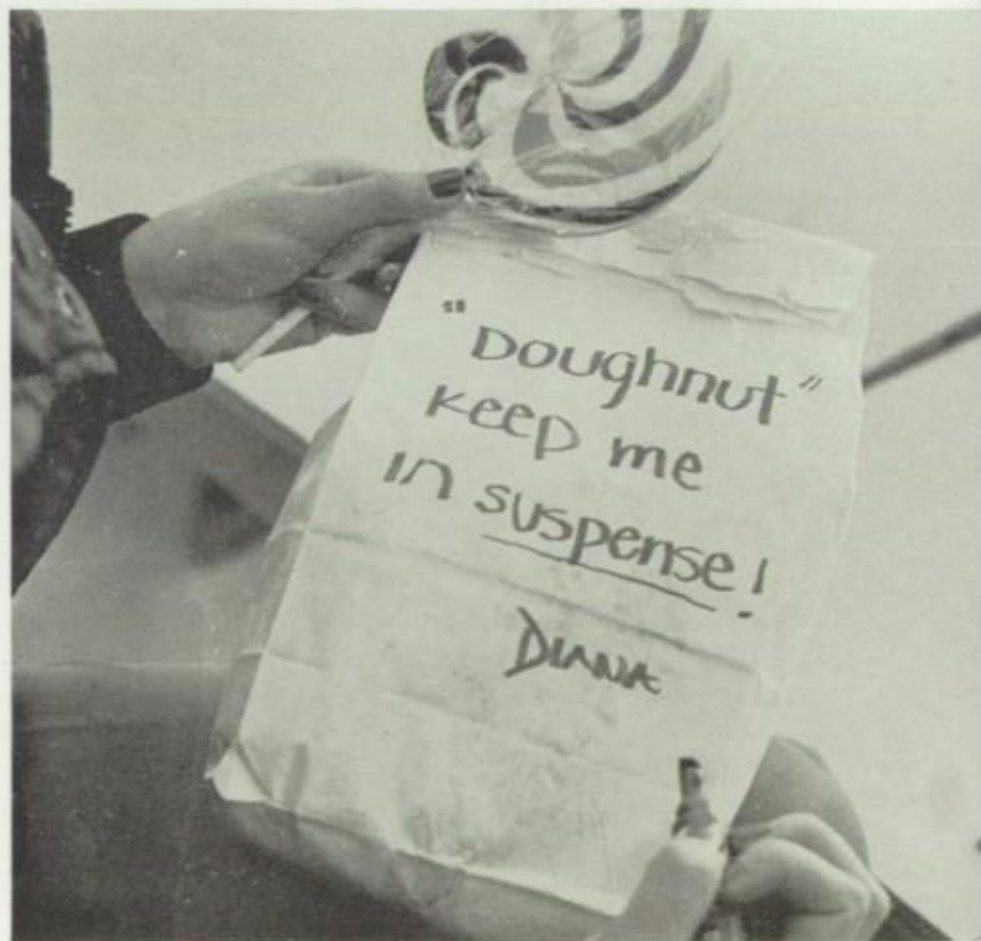

Skyline is well known for students uniquely asking and answering others to formal dances. Some of these original ways include using fortune cookies, candy grams, roller papered houses and decorated lockers. Students plan, well in advance, how, when and whom to ask. For example, one senior answered his date by sending E.T. to say, "yes". A junior asked for a date by having a blind man deliver a letter in braille. Yet another junior answered with a jack-o-lantern and a little note saying, "I'd be delighted to go." One of the all time favorites is having a singing telegram delivered during lunch. Sometimes trying to figure out a clever and original method is a big nuisance, but students seem to keep with the tradition and continually strive to think of new and creative ways to give and accept invitations for dates.

DANCES

Skyline's Dances were a main part of school social life. Five dances—Homecoming, W.A. Dance, Senior Prom, Junior Prom, and the Pep Club Dance—provided an opportunity for the couples to spend an exciting evening creating memories to last for years to come.

STOMPS

Four action-packed stomps were held in the Skyline gym. The Hello Day Stomp, sponsored by the P.T.S.A., was held before school started, giving students a chance to get reacquainted after a three month vacation. The Sophomore Halloween Stomp brought everyone in costumes from pigs to Blues Brothers. The first stomp of the new year was co-sponsored by the Senare and the S.A.B., with the theme of "004". Traditionally ending the year, the Men's Association put together the popular Hawaiian Stomp.

These stomps helped students to meet new friends, and to enjoy the rich social life of Skyline.

Activities included door decorations, pie and licorice eating contests. The halls, done by Cheri James and Ann Shields, were decorated with yellow and blue crepe paper, creative banners and pep posters. The climax of the week took place on the Princess Sun ship in the gym where friends and alumni joined together to dance to the music of "London Bridge".

WILD WEEKENDS

What did students of Skyline do on their weekends? Nothing? Of course not. Fridays, Saturdays, and Sundays were spent dating, working at McDonalds, cruisin' State Street, getting in trouble, and having fun.

Some listened to the Rolling Stones, went to church, went to inspiring points, watched football on television, visited friends, went to concerts, cleaned rooms, fished and even did their homework.

Others partied, toiler papered friends and foe, washed the car, watched movies on video recorders, played "Dungeons and Dragons," went out of control, played video games, ate, drank, and just plain tried to be merry.

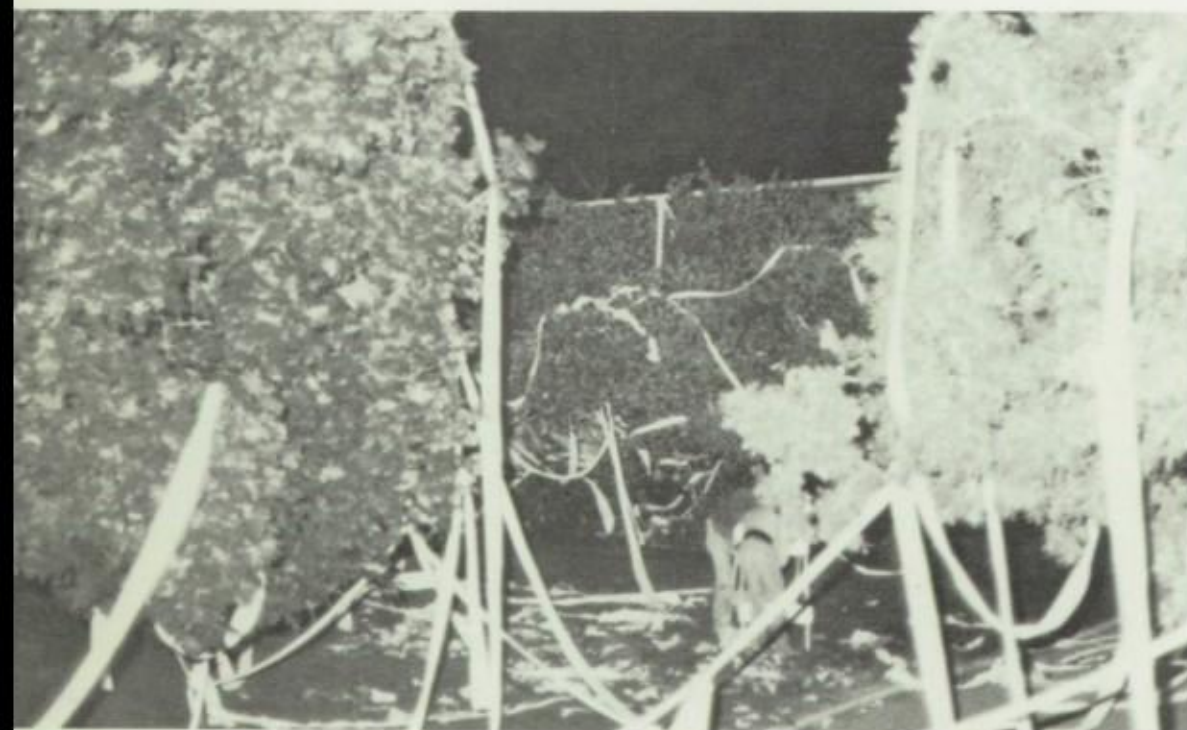

Even though homework was not wild, some students still did it.

"HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING"

"It has taken a lot of long hours and hard work, but it has all been worth it," commented one cast member on the production of the school musical, "How to Succeed In Business Without Really Trying." The musical was the story of J. Pierrepont Finch's rise from the mail room to chairman of the board of the World Wide Wicket Company. As he progresses in the company, he falls in love with a secretary, Rosemary Pilkington.

Through the efforts of Mr. Tom Strokoe, director, Mr. James Miller, choral director, Mr. Richard Chatelain, orchestra director, and Ms. Christie Keller, choreographer, the cast, dancers, pit orchestra (composed of orchestra and jazz band members), and crew started working individually in September. For the two weeks previous to the performance, all of the groups involved met in the auditorium to rehearse until, sometimes, as late as 11:00 p.m.

"DON'T DRINK THE WATER"

"They're enjoyable to both the cast and the audience; these are very entertaining plays," commented Mr. Tom Stokoe, director, on the spring plays "Don't Drink the Water," presented on February 24, 25, 26, and "Blithe Spirit," presented on February 28, March 1 and 2. "Don't Drink the Water," by Woody Allen, is a comedy about an American couple, who, while touring a Communist country, are accused of spying. They take refuge in the American embassy; the play then deals with what happens to them while they are there. The second play, "Blithe Spirit," by the British playwright, Noel Coward, is about the complications that result when a man's second wife is brought back to life.

Both plays are world renowned comedies by well known playwrights. The plays were also staged similarly, in the semi-arena style, with seating on the stage arranged in a semi-circle.

FADS AND FASHIONS OF 82-83

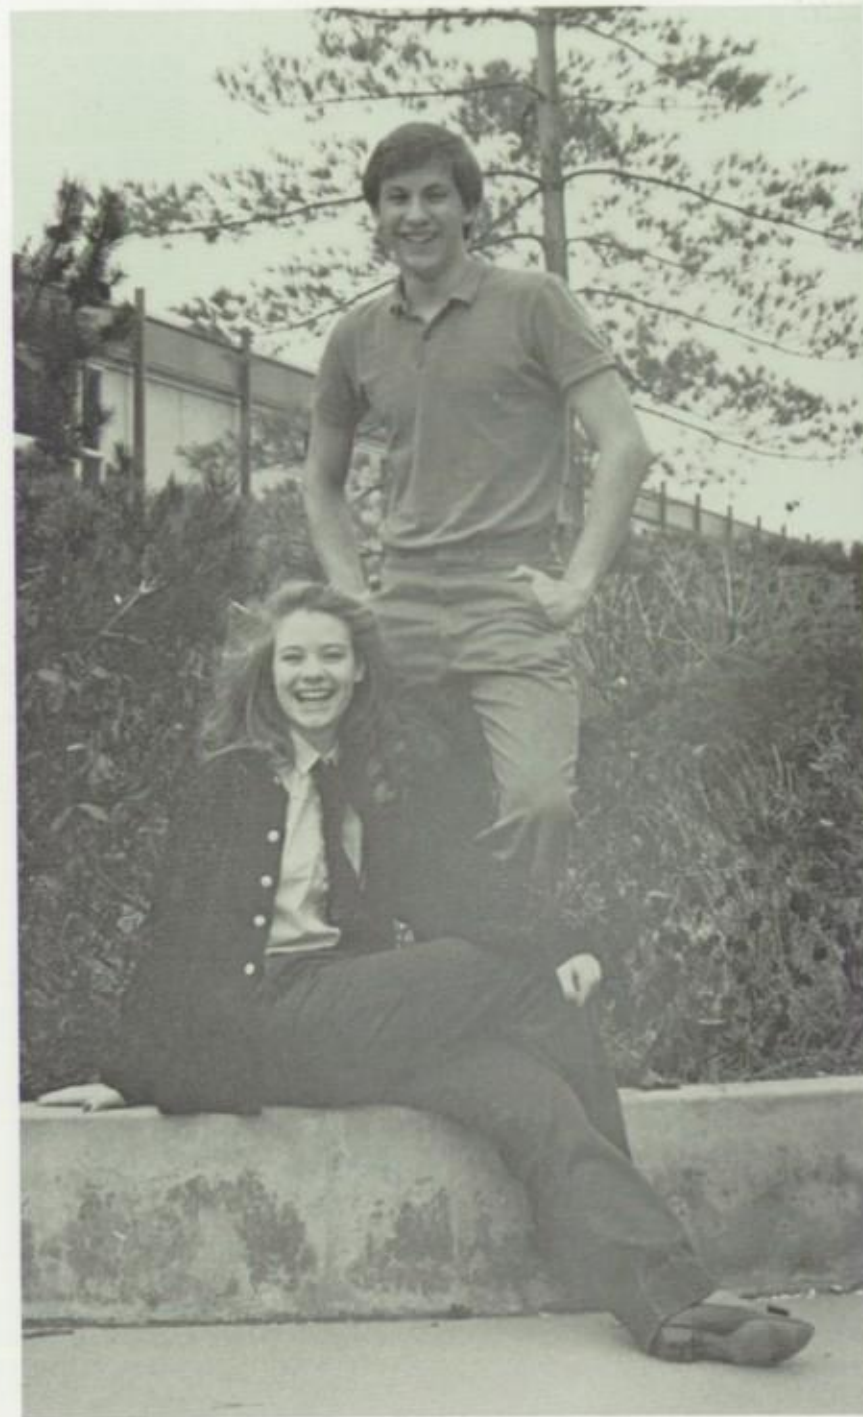

The halls of Skyline were filled this year with mini-skirts, tuxedo and army pants, Polo shirts, argyle sweater vests, bermuda shorts, cardigans, and pedal-pushers. Shoe styles included colored topsiders, penny loafers, patent leather pumps, short boots, Sportos and Van's off-the-walls. Accessories—bow and knit ties, designer ny-lons, cummerbunds, belts and argyle socks—added the final touch.

Past fads combined with the newest crazes to form favorite student pastimes. Among the most popular were hacky sack, Rolling Stone and Gentleman's Quarterly magazines, and computers.

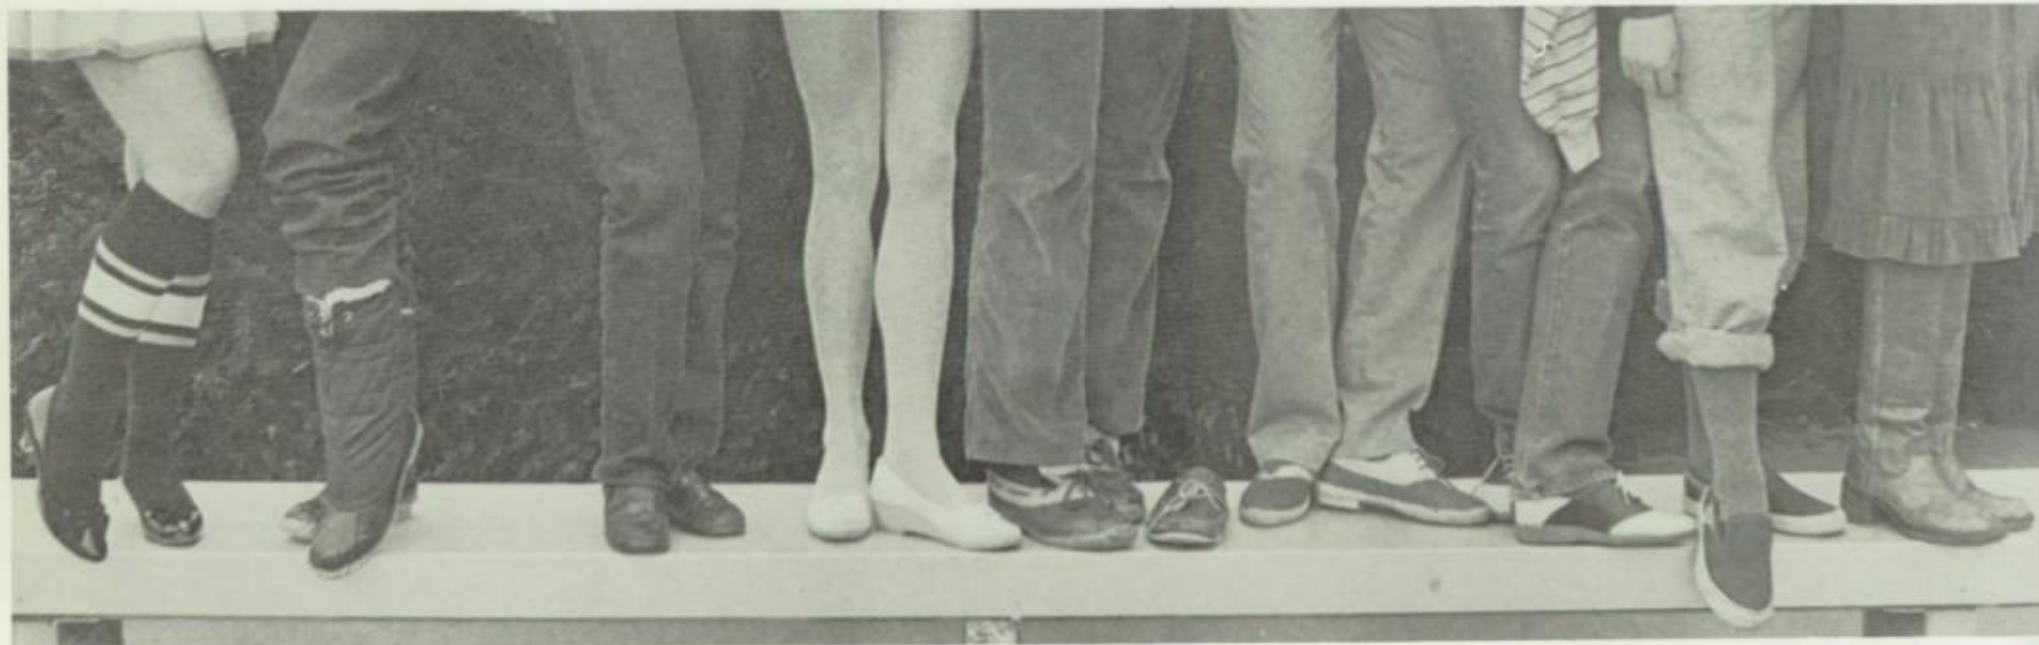

One of the most popular new styles was Punk, which allowed students to express their feelings through their clothing styles.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

In his first year as Skyline's head coach, Ray Groth said that he enjoyed coaching football at the high school level and was very pleased when he saw progress in the players of the 1982-1983 football team.

Some major setbacks of his job, commented Coach Groth, were inadequate funds for team equipment, as well as a small student body. Speaking of the quality of the team, he said, "This year's varsity team was young, but they were all willing to learn and work hard."

SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL

Coaches Jim Pierson and Ray Groth led sophomore football through another season. Coach Pierson believes that next years' varsity team will be promising because of this year's exceptional sophomore team. Although the team needed to improve on offense and scoring, they did very well, placing among the top four.

"We work hard; we have some truly outstanding players, but we don't get the recognition we deserve," commented captain Paul Jung on the Skyline Soccer team. Led by Coach Dennis Preece, the team practiced during the winter and during the season to prepare for the season games held each Tuesday and Friday. The team has done well in the past, placing many times in the top four. This year was no exception; Skyline's soccer team was again predicted to win the region title and to place high in the statewide competition.

GOLF

"I feel that Skyline is the best school in Utah. If the players continue to work hard, we will be the team to beat in the next three years," said Coach Jim Woodward of the golf team. Skyline's golf team has a great deal to be proud of. In the last ten years, Skyline has won ten state championships. This year the golf team won the region trophy and took second place at state. With such strong golfers as Ken Menlove, Matt Hawkins, and Jim Perkins, the golf team will continue to keep up Skyline's winning record.

The men's varsity basketball team at Skyline has been coached by Mr. Paul Jeppeson for the past six years. The players were hard working, cooperative and devoted to the game and, thus, Skyline's tradition of an excellent basketball team was kept alive this year. All members of the team were willing to devote many hours, as well as the effort to develop a skilled team.

As a whole, the basketball season proved to be successful for Skyline when they captured the Region III 4A crown after being ranked third in the region. Coach Jeppeson felt that their biggest problem was that they needed more height as their tallest player was only 6'4". Even though they did not place well in state, Coach Jeppeson was proud of the team's performance and thankful for the student body participation.

SOPHOMORE AND J.V. BASKETBALL

Coach Walker, who has been coaching Junior Varsity and Sophomore Basketball at Skyline for the past five years, felt that his main duty was to get the teams ready to play varsity in the following years. This year's J.V. and Sophomore teams were no exception because Coach Walker aided them in improving offensively as well as defensively. The players learned to develop a good relationship with the coach and fellow teammates. "We are a good, hard-working team," commented J.V. co-captain, Andy Teerlink.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Joan Burdett
Coach

At the beginning of the season, women's basketball coach, Joan Burdett, expressed her optimism by saying, "I'm sure we will place first in region and maybe even state." Although the young varsity team was inexperienced, they improved for the State Championship, through much practice. Skyline's women's basketball team has always been strong, but they felt that "a bit more Eagle Pride and interest in women's basketball would be greatly appreciated."

Under the direction of Coach Snarr, the women's tennis team placed second in the State Competition, losing only to Brighton. "Tennis is great. I loved playing for Skyline. The team played well, but we had tough competition against Brighton," commented Kristi Bess, Captain.

Skyline's women's tennis have always been a facet of pride, and hopefully it will endure to make Skyline proud in the future.

Led by captain, Brad Rasmussen, the men's team had a successful year. For the past five years, the boys have been among the top five in the state. This year the toughest competition for the men's team came from Olympus. "The Titans were tough for the boys; that's why we were second in the region," commented Coach Dan Snarr. Nevertheless, the men's tennis team played well and strove for excellence.

CROSS COUNTRY TRACK

"The teams worked really hard; they deserve to win," commented Coach Ron Palcic on Skyline's victory at the Region III Cross Country Championship held at Sugarhouse Park on October 19, 1982. The men's varsity, women's varsity, and men's junior varsity all captured first place at Region. Coach Palcic added that this team worked harder than any other he had previously coached.

The women's varsity, led by Captain Melinda Smith, finished with a record of 5-0. The men's varsity, led by co-captains Mike Hyde and Vince Martinez, was also undefeated, finishing with a record of 6-0.

TRACK AND FIELD

After winning region for Cross Country, Coach Palcic had high hopes for the track team. "I'm looking forward to the track team. We have some high goals—we want to place higher in state than we have in the past three years," he added. Coach Palcic predicted that the toughest competition for both the men's and women's team would come from Olympus. He also added that many strong runners were returning but not many fielders were.

SWIMMING AND WATERPOLO

With fantastic records, the swim teams and water polo teams proved that cooperation and team work pay off. Their record was no surprise to their coach, Steve Marsing, who felt from the beginning the teams were strong.

The women's water polo team and swimming team were composed mostly of returning members, with many strong junior members. The men's teams were not as strong as the women's but, again, included many strong junior members.

VOLLEYBALL

This year's women's volleyball team, under the supervision of Coach Joan Burdett, placed first in region competition and fifth in state. Said Shauna Mahoney, a team member, "Skyline has had a tradition for having a strong volleyball team, and I think we represented it well this year."

If there is anything that the players regret, it is the lack of interest shown by the student body. The students "should pay more attention to all women's sports," said Lisa Sorensen.

BASEBALL

Despite the fact that the competition was as strong as it was, the Baseball team played a successful season. Since there had been only four seniors on the team the year before, most of the team returned and their experience improved the performance of the team one hundred percent.

With players such as Darin and Dave Reber, Dan Murray, and Layne Dunford, the Baseball team continued to successfully represent the Skyline standard of excellence.

SOFTBALL

Mr. Copier, coach of the Women's Softball team, had a positive attitude from the start of the season, and his intuition proved correct. The Softball team played a successful season and again proved their skill and talent. Of the team, Coach Copier said, "We have a lot of very talented girls. We should be able to play quite well. There are some good athletes who, if they are willing to work, can be successful."

WRESTLING

This year, according to Coach Preece, "is the start of something great for the Skyline Wrestling Team," but, he added, he would like to see wrestling become a Skyline tradition like basketball and football. While the team was composed mostly of juniors and sophomores, with only five returning leftermen, the wrestling squad had a remarkably successful year. Although still in his first year at Skyline, Mr. Preece, as well as team captains Chris Barton and Chris Whitney, were very pleased with the results of the season.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

Learning how the state government works and what each of the governmental offices entail was the purpose of Girls' and Boys' State. Several students from Skyline were involved in Girls' and Boys' State. Lectures by current government officials, caucusses, and elections held during the week all helped students gain a better understanding of and respect for Utah's government. Elayne Wells said of Girls' State, "I have never learned so much in such a short time," and Brad Herzog, a member of Boys' State said that "Boys' State was really interesting. I met a lot of really neat people, and I learned a lot about the structure of the government."

After their performance at the school musical, a local music critic rated Skyline's orchestra one of the best orchestras he had heard all year. The orchestra, composed of thirty members with fifteen additional wind members for performances, performed for the Potluck Dinner, the instrumental music department's fundraiser; the musical; at Concerto Night, where chosen soloists were featured; and at the Mountain State's Music Festival.

They performed at the potluck dinner — a fundraising event for the instrumental music department, the Skyline Christmas Concert, ZCMI, the Spring Concert and the Mountain States Music Festival. Like the orchestra, the concert band was composed mostly of underclassmen, with only five seniors.

Through their performances at all home football and basketball games, Skyline's Eagle Band was able to "...create enthusiasm and spirit unequalled by any other group," as quoted by their director, Mr. Richard Chatelain. The Eagle Band, a voluntary group, was also the social wing of the band, having parties after many of the games.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Junior Choir and Girls' Chorus were training groups for Concert Choir and Madrigals. Throughout the year the choirs worked on tone quality and technique in order to prepare for the auditions at the end of the year. According to Mr. Miller, Junior Choir has some great prospects for next year's Concert Choir. The Girls' Chorus, although small in number, worked hard and improved one hundred percent throughout the year. Of the choirs, Mr. Miller said, "I'm very proud of Junior Choir and of Girls' Chorus for their desire to sing and to be a part of a larger singing group."

Friends and family enjoy the Madrigals' traditional Christmas concert.

The Madrigals perform at the Faculty Tea.

Willingness to work and vocal quality are just two of the strong points displayed by the Skyline Madrigals throughout the year. Although the Christmas season is the busiest time of the year for the Madrigals, they performed throughout the entire year. The nineteen members of the Madrigals include ten females and nine males. Said Mr. Miller, director of the Madrigals, "I get a great deal of personal satisfaction out of working with so many dedicated students."

CONCERT CHOIR

"Concert Choir is a very choice group. They are a very, very talented, dedicated group of young singers trying to improve their standard of performance," commented Mr. James Miller, Skyline's choral director. Concert Choir performed a number of times throughout the year; their busiest season, however, was Christmas when they gave eight performances within two weeks. The seventy-four member Concert Choir, comprised of both juniors and seniors, sought enjoyment in music throughout the year.

PEP CLUB

The best part of being Pep Club advisor for Ms. Iverson is "seeing the girls work hard on a march and then performing it well." Ms. Iverson enjoys watching the girls succeed.

Being in the Pep Club was a wonderful experience for the members this year. They performed at all the home games and went to every game, whether it was home or away. They made team treats for the team members, put up posters to increase enthusiasm for the games, and generally added spirit to the school.

LA NICHEES

In the early fall the La Nichees had already distinguished themselves as an excellent drill team. At the Utah State University drill camp last summer, they received superior ratings and far outranked the other drill teams.

Mrs. Jensen, the La Nichee advisor, has enjoyed working with them. They worked so well together, but, she says, "the hardest task of the La Nichees is for 21 girls to forget that they are individuals and to work as a unit. After they do, the result is spectacular."

DANCE CLUB

Dance Club has been quite a challenge for Ms. Keller, the new dance teacher. She remarked that she was glad to be at Skyline and to be able to work with such a group of talented girls.

After "try outs" in September, the Dance Club members settled down to work. The largest part of their practice was devoted to their spring concert.

Ms. Keller felt that the hardest part of Dance Club for the girls was the discipline and after school practices.

LINGERIES

Skyline High School proudly presented the sexy, the irresistible Lingeries, the male rivals of the La Nichees. These talented young men have worked diligently throughout the year to provide a humorous form of entertainment for games and assemblies.

Speaking of the La Nichees, one member of the Lingeries said, "We are cuter than they and can jump higher when we do the splits!" This fervor is due in part to the help of Jana Hardy and Stephanie Holt who have helped make the Lingeries what they are.

The Lingeries display their skill during Skyline's Homecoming Assembly.

DRAMA CLUB

President Andy Olson and Vice-President Monica Gornik with the assistance of advisor Mr. Tom Srokoe, led the Drama Club through a fun-filled, exciting year. The Drama Club met regularly after school and was open to anyone but was especially interesting for those people involved in the theatre.

The Drama Club was involved in various activities including attending and reviewing plays, critiquing movies, organizing parties, picnics, performing skits for elementary schools, participating in a one-act play festival with other schools, joining in exchanges with other drama clubs, and performing plays for their own enjoyment.

"Anything that goes on in the auditorium that requires lights and sounds involves the stage crew," remarked Mr. Tom Stokoe, advisor for the skyline Stage Crew. The crew operated the lights, built the sets, and basically ran the stage for all assemblies, plays, and other activities that involved the auditorium and the stage.

To make assemblies run smoothly, the ushers came to the assistance of the stage crew. The usher's main duty was to escort unruly students out of the assembly.

"Debate helps with speech, the ability to speak in front of others, and because of the topics, it makes you aware of national and world happenings," remarked senior Kristi Bess. The debate squad was composed of twelve varsity and eighteen novice members. The squad met every day during second period to prepare for the ten debate meets held during the year.

The squad was divided into two person teams. At the meets each team competed with a team from another school for individual, not school points.

Forensics, or individual events, was also included in debate meets. Among the events included in Forensics were public speaking, one on one debates, and Student Congress, a mock congress. Most of the debate members were also involved in Forensics.

FOLK CLUB

Folk club provided an opportunity for musically talented students to share their talents. Their main project was co-ordination of an assembly performed at elementary and junior high schools throughout the valley. One of the main goals for the year was to perform their assembly at Skyline, something they have not been able to do in years past.

GERMAN CLUB

The 1982-83 German Club launched into a fulfilling year with the presentation of the German movie "Die Grosse Chance," under the direction of advisor Mr. Mack Patten and president Jeff Jones. One of the highlights of the year was the Oktoberfest celebration held in the fall. "The members of the club 'make or break' the organization. This year we had a very good club," remarked Mr. Patten.

FRENCH CLUB

A certain "je ne sais quoi" would best describe this year's French club.

Activities ranged from participating in soccer games and volleyball games against the Spanish club, making crepes, and attending any French film in town.

Madame Fabienne Morck was the advisor for the exclusive French speaking club and summed it up by adding, "C'est meilleur en francais."

SPANISH CLUB

Top row: Mr. Densley, Kevin Shirley, Sean Tomlinson, Bob Savage, Danny Moore, Scott Schamay, Andrea Fannesbeck, Mr. Bageley.

"DECA," commented club president, Doug Anderson, "gives students the opportunity to learn about marketing and then practice it in the real business world." Doug, along with vice president Maria Grundstein, organized and planned activities to help members of the Distributive Education Clubs of America to compete in the world of marketing. Besides the basic work experience, DECA also held socials such as the Barn Dance in December. Sales competitions and guest speakers were just a few of the ways participants learned how to apply their DECA experiences.

Future Business Leaders of America is an organization designed to "promote business and provide speakers who will help in business," remarked FBLA advisor, Mrs. Barbara Carlston. Under the direction of Mrs. Carlston, president, Dianna Cannon, vice president, Wendy Barnhart, and secretary, Lisa Scharffs, FBLA was involved in such activities as the Western Regional, a gathering of all FBLA clubs in the west, a leadership conference for officers held in Park City in August, and business contests, including categories such as business management, typing, accounting, and shorthand. The club was also involved in such social activities as the Barn Dance.

CHESS CLUB

The Skyline Ski Club provided an opportunity for students who enjoyed skiing to get together. Led by advisor, Carlos Pinto, the club met every Thursday throughout the ski season to make arrangements to ski the following weekend. They participated in many freestyle competitions plus the Knudson Cup, a slalom ski competition among schools held in February.

With activities that included programs at rest homes, bike hikes, and a Sub for Santa, the Key Club was a valuable asset to the community. It is a high school branch of the Kiwanis International which made its services available in the community as well as within the school. "Key Club is a wonderful service organization," remarks Dan Snarr, advisor.

VOCATIONAL HOUSE BUILDING

Vocational House Building allowed students interested in plumbing, plastering, carpentry, electricity and painting to get together and put their skills to practical use. This year, Skyline joined with Olympus to build their house; the house's estimated value set at $200,000.

Tricia Jerman, Jane Appleby, Renel Backman, Jon Frederick, Dirk Meyer.

The philosophy of the Cro-Magnon is "to be an outlet for writing talent of whimsical creativities" as Mrs. Jacobs, the advisor, put it. The idea of the satirical magazine is to subtly poke fun at the ripping seams of Skyline. Dirk Meyer and Tricia Jerman, the co-editors, encouraged people to submit their writing talent to Cro-Magnon.

COMPUTERS

Computers also provide entertainment for students.

Mr. Pehrson advises Jeff Schmeitler on program.

"I enjoy computer programming because it is like a game or a puzzle," commented Mr. David Pehrson, head of the computer science department. Skyline has its own computer rooms equipped with nine computers to serve the six computer science classes.

AQUILIAN

In early June, a largely untrained staff and untried advisor were assembled with the task of bringing to fruition Skyline's annual volume of the Aquilian. At times the task seemed insurmountable. Nerves, tension, interrupted sleep and hours of personal time were the diet the assignment consumed. With dedication, a will to succeed, and encouragement from many, our task progressed through the months. At times tempers needed soothing, bruised ego's calmed and wayward ventures trimmed. Interviews were held, copy and captions written, layouts revised, pictures taken and retaken. Filing, sorting, indexing and proof-reading took place. The mysteries of the dark room-printing and developing-unraveled to newly learned capabilities. Every deadline to the printer was met and quotas exceeded. At the beginning of our experience, our plans were to soar; at the end, with the presentation of our book to the Skyline family, we know that, at least, we have done our very best to fly.

"We hope to provide valuable information and varied viewpoints to move a student to action," commented Mrs. Clarann Jacobs on the purpose of Skyline's newspaper, the Horizon. The newspaper contained articles of school news, current events, sports, plus editorials, photographs, and cartoons done by students.

One main goal of the staff was to call attention of the students and the parents to the overcrowded classrooms caused by cutbacks in funds brought about by the declining student enrollment.

One of Mrs. Jacobs's goals was "...to help Journalism students produce excellent, competent writing, photographs and cartoons they will be proud to see in print."

Students applied for staff positions by completing an application and being interviewed by Mrs. Jacobs. Recommendations also came from the present staff members and English teachers.

SATORIAN

Dianna Cannon, Suzanne Guzman, Elayne Wells, Sarina Spiegel, Amy Simpson.

The word "satorian" comes from the word "satori," a Zen Buddhist term meaning "third eye." This "third eye" gives a person insight, a keen awareness, an ability to observe them in a different way. The literary magazine, the Satorian, is Skyline's third eye, providing a chance to share the insights and perceptions of its students.

The emphasis of the Satorian is creative writing. The magazine includes stories, poetry, essays, one-act plays, artwork and photography. Anyone who wished could submit original creative work to the magazine.

The main goal of the staff is more participation from students. "We're constantly striving for more works to be submitted from outside the staff," commented Mr. Brent Westergard, the staff's advisor.

Members of the Satorian staff were chosen each April, after submitting examples of their writing such as poetry and stories and being interviewed by Mr. Westergard, the Satorian staff advisor.

The staff met every day during first period. From September to mid-January, the staff, under the leadership of editor, Jane Appleby, wrote short stories and poetry in an effort to develop their individual writing talents. From mid-January until the publication date, the staff members worked on grading submittals, typing, proofreading, and magazine layout. Then, after many long hours spent working on the Satorian, the magazine was distributed to students in May.

SKYLINER

"It's quite a job trying to get ready for registration in August," remarked Mrs. Barbara Carlston on the production of the 1982-1983 Skyliner. Led by the advisor, Mrs. Carlston, and the editor, David Horwitz, the staff worked on the directory in the spring, gathering the information on the students and pictures of the officers, cheerleaders and the administration.

GRAPHIC STAFF

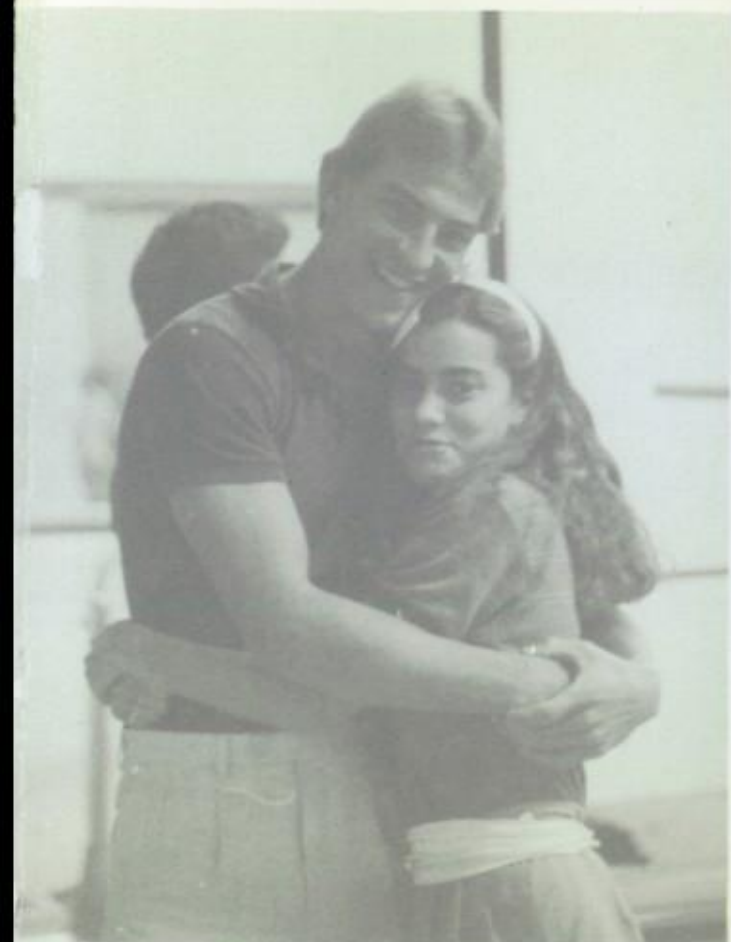

Mr. Bob Tyrell, advisor

"Hopefully, by the things we do, we draw more attention to the activities," remarked Mr. Bob Tyrell, instructor of the vocational Graphics class. The 28 members of the class printed posters to accent and promote such school activities as plays, musicals, concerts, and sports. The Graphics department usually completed the printed projects within three weeks. The cost of materials was charged to the organization ordering the posters.

JUNIOR OFFICERS

Junior officers, Jon Pike, President, Sheralyn Jaquier, Vice-president and Suzie Lake, secretary, led Skyline's junior class through a fun-filled, exciting year. The officers enjoyed the student body, but one problem shared by all of them was getting the Junior class to participate in such activities as the Junior Prom and Junior Week. President Jon summed up his feelings by saying, "I'm really excited to be representing the Junior class, which to me has a great deal of potential for success."

STERLING SCHOLARS

Eleven Skyline students were nominated in various areas to be the 1982-1983 Sterling Scholars. These students were chosen because of their excellence in a particular subject. In order to participate in the competition, they had to submit portfolios containing awards, certificates and honors the students had received. Interviews with faculty of other schools led them to the final competition, which was televised in March. All of these students displayed Skyline's Eagle Pride to other schools in the competition.

TOP 5% AND MODEL U.N.

The top five percent of Skyline's senior class represent the best in academic achievement. These twenty-four students have managed to maintain a cumulative grade point average of 3.845 or above through all three years of high school. At the same time these outstanding students maintained a balance between academics, extra-curricular activities and social life.

"The Model United Nations gives students a hands on experience with the peace keeping efforts of the United Nations," explained Mr. Tim Simmons, advisor. The Model U.N. consisted of approximately twenty students composing two delegations. This year Skyline represented Vietnam and South Yemen. Each delegation did research on the social, political, and economic conditions of their country and then debated the issues in a parliamentary procedure.

Spring arrives and with it comes the desire to soar, to get away,
to be free.

Yet there is a certain contentment among us, a proud feeling of completion.

Our yearly flight on Skyline's wings of excellence is now at a close.

This is a happy time for everyone — the thought of freedom. But there is also a quiet sadness as close friends say goodbye.

It's all over.
The flight is ended.
The eagle has landed.
Summer is here.

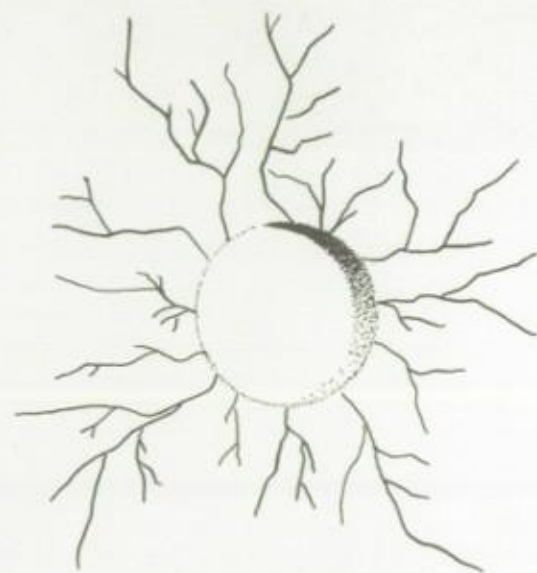

Jimmy Sieverts
Sophomore

The graduating class of 1983, represented by Debi Giles and Steve Jensen, look forward to new goals and achievements of the future.

THANK YOU . . .

Mr. Westergard for proofreading and correcting our grammatical errors

Eric Fehr for his darkroom help and guidance

Mr. Worley for his constant aid and continuous support

Mrs. Jacobs and the Horizon staff for sharing their darkroom

Steve Brazell for his artistic contributions to the division pages

Faculty for permitting class absences in order to meet our deadlines

Mr. Bill Baker, our Josten's representative, for pointing the way and improving upon ideas

Don Blair Studio for excellent and prompt photography

Mr. R.D. Arner, a neighbor, for the Skyline rainbow photo used on the title page

Mr. Bergstrom and Dr. Stanfield for their support

Working proletariat of the yearbook staff who did the work

And of course, to our cherished advisor:

Mr. James "Stew" Stewart

John,
Having
Mr. B has been just great also
Mrs. coon have a nice hope you have a nice summer. See you next year.
Jessa

John,
This year has been a kick. Marybell's class was a riot although I didn't like her negative attitude toward us.

It was fun anyway.
Have a fun summer. O.K.
Your friend,
Joy

John,

You're really nice and math was okey this year,
but I can't say that Mr.
Beezeley was fun! Have a terrific summer and I'll see you next year!

Love,
Kim.

John,
Have ya been to any classes during an assembly lately (that was so embarassing!)
Well, anyways, I'm glad I got to know you in your pretty nice.
Rosemary

SOARING ON WINGS

John,
I'm glad we finally made it through Spanish.
It's been a fun year. I hope we'll be able to make next years yearbook as good as this one. Have a great summer & see you
next year.
Amy

Bum! I not going to say that this year was really nasty. I want to. To bad we didn't have more classes together with though zoology was fun as a class. Not a subject. We've got to play some tennis this summer with kint, call me.
Todd.

John this year. It well was fun in Bull is finally. I hated the teacher sure thought especially such a big

John
I know you'll never forget the flood of '82 so use it to remember me by "an over-whelming, almost uncontrollable influence!"
just kidding!

John,
forget all the Spanish
you ever learned (if you ever learned any!) Don't think about school and have a good summer!!
